Monthly meeting

October 17, 2002, 5-6:30 PM

Held at America Online in Irvine

Title: Making your web site accessible for people with disabilities.

OCCHI is honored to present Steve Tuttle as our guest speaker. Steve designed the first class on Accessibility at UCI. He is a programmer, an instructor and currently working on his doctorate at UCI.

Steve will discuss the basic principles of web design for accessibility, Section 508, the Web Accessibility Initiative, and provide tools and strategies for the design, construction and maintenance of accessible web sites. During the discussion he will show us many web sites and discuss the benefit of planning a web site in advance versus retrofitting.
